ARKANSAS.

Address of General Newton Reflecting on the eneral Assembly—Its Sentiments Disavowed by Baxter-The Legislature in the State House The City Quiet.

LITTLE ROCK, ATK., May 20, 1874. The Gazette of this morning publishes an address of General Newton to his soldiers commencing, You have been directly insulted by both houses of the General Assembly," and further strongly ecting upon the action of the Legislature in to seats certain members who had orne arms under Brooks and against said soldiers, hich has caused some comment.

overnor Baxter has sent a communication to Speaker of the House and to Senator Frierson, the former President pro tem. of the Senate, stating that the address was issued without his approbation, as whatever his own convictions were, he recognized the right of the Legislature to determine who were fit members; that he had no doubt that they would exercise the right to the best interests of the people. He thought the conservative members of the senate would soon be able to check further hasty action by the House, and that the bills will not pass the Senate without due consideration which repeal the bills creating bureaus which are of service to the State, and which repealing bills are being put through the House simply because the heads of the departments were Brooks men. THE LEGISLATURE IN THE STATE HOUSE. The legislative body, at twelve o clock to-day, marched from their temporary quarters to the state House, and took possession of the respective halls. Governor Baxter's troops have a guard at the gates of the grounds, and allow no ingress to outsiders unless provided with passes. Two Parrot guns are stationed in the grounds facing the street. The city is quiet. The staple of conversation is the seizure of the Auditor's and Treasurer's offices and the rumored split into various parties between the conservatives and anti-conservatives.

Mr. Henry Page, State Treasurer, to-day rebation, as whatever his own convictions were,

Henry Page, State Treasurer, to-day resigned.

ARKANSAS SENATORS TO BE INVESTIGATED.

Both branches of the Legislature passed a joint resolution appointing a committee to investigate the conduct of Senators Clayton and Dorsey and the Representatives in Congress in attempting to overthrow the State government.

Commissioners were appointed to supervise and control the ensuing election for delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

A bill of pardon and amnesty to those engaged in the late insurrection was introduced in the House.

Curious Action of the Legislature-Dele-gates Elected to the Constitutional Convention-The Course of the Arkan sas Senators-A Proposed Duel Pre-

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 20, 1874-Evening A curious affair has transpired in the Legislature ere. The House passed a bill and sent to the Senate to restrain the Treasurer from paying out any of the sinking by order of the Legislature, and the Senate introluced a bill to appropriate of the sinking fund $60,000 for the payment of the army, $40,000 for the Legislature and $20,000 to reimburse the Gov-ernor's contingent fund. Both bills are in the ame handwriting and both will pass. THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

cted Dudley E. Jones, A. H. Garland and Gordon I. Reay State Supervisors for the election of a

M. Reay State Supervisors for the election of a constitutional convention.

Some of the leaders of the Legislature acknowledge that they are on the road to repudiation.

The joint committee appointed to-day to investigate the course of Sevators Clayton and Dorsey in the late troubles may raise quite a sensation similar to the Pomeroy exposure in Kansas.

PROPOSED DUEL BETWEEN DOUTORS.

Two of Baxter's surgeons got in a quarrel about several wounded given in charge to one, who were turned over by the Surgeon General to the other for neglect by the former. The result was a challenge. One party appeared early in the morning on the other side or the river with a shotgun and a second, but the other failed to appear. The affair got wing and Baxter had the figating doctors arrested and brought before him, when he made them swear to "chop" the matter.

ding the Rival Forces of Baxter and Brooks-The New Law on Elecs, Punishment for Corruption and Call for a Constitutional Convention.

LITTLE ROCE, Ark., May 16, 1874. lovernor of Arkansas and the people of the State state, something which has not happened to them or thirteen long years, and many await anxiously ee whether they will wield their sceptre los ood or for evil in so far as concerns the future of to regain the position of Governor, which he seized for one month, will now have to be made by able means. His supporters have much me in the action of Congress if the more lawless of Governor Baxter's supporters begin a persecution of prominent Northern republican officials throughout the State who would go out of office under the action of the Convention. Their hopes may be well grounded. It is to be though it would undoubtedly be safer for some of the more prominent "oppressors of the people," as they are termed by Southern citizens, to leave THE AMNESTY CARTEL

The cartel agreed upon yesterday by Secretary Johnson, Generals Churchill, Newton, Blocher, Deputy Secretary Strong and Colonel Rottaken on Johnson, Generals Churchili, Newton, Blocher, Deputy Secretary Strong and Colonel Rottaken on the part of Governor Baxter, and by Generals Fagan, Uniterson, Brooks, Colonel Dunn and Mr. Benjamin on the part of Mr. Brooks, Seems fair to both parties. The main points are as follows:

In obedience to the proclamation of the President General Fagan's command is to be disbanded, retaining their private arms and property. That the forces of General Newton, to such an extent and as rapidly as the dispersing of Fagan's forces will justify, will be moved to their respective counties, to be used in military service for no other purpose than the preservation of the public peace and the protection of all persons against violence, without regard to politics, color or participation in the recent troubles. That the command of Brigadier General E. J. Brooks living up the river be allowed to retain their private arms and twenty-five stand of State arms, to be receipted for by General Brooks' command, to start on the day the agreement is entered into by a steamer under a white flag. That the Brooksies living on the line of railroads shall start the same day or as soon thereaster as possible, the trains also to be under the white flag. That Brooksies living on the line of railroads shall start the same as soon as transportation can be furnished. That the cavairy be retained if desirable or necessary until the infantry be dispersed. That those living in this county shall be sent home, under discreet officers, as rapidly as possible. That all men of Brooks' forces included in the agreement who have been acting as enlisted men are assured full protection, and shall be permitted to return home and shall be unmolested for acts done under orders of their officers, nor shall the officers going to their homes, with or without troops, be moiested. That all public arms and munitions of war now at the State House, with the exception of those spoken of above, shall be left in the State Armory, unless Major General Newton nitions of war now at the State House, with the exception of those spoken of above, shall be left in the State Armory, unless Major General Newton shall allow other portions thereof to be used by either side pending the removal of troops. Transportation to be furnished by the State of Arkansas. That all troops be kept inside of their respective lines until the above be consummated, and the United States troops are to patrol the city.

THE PROPOSED NEW ELECTION LAWS.

Let us now review the Constitutional Convention bill, in which it will be seen that the former "outs" have well learned some points formerly used by the former "ins."

"socts" have well learned some points formerly used by the former 'ms."

Section I provides that the Convention is to assemble on the lstn prox.

Section 2 provides for the election of delegates in the same manner that representatives are elected—t.e., by legal voles of the qualified elections.

Section 5 provides that an election shall be held in accordance with the existing laws, except as bereinatter provided. The following section provides for an election triannitiate, with aimost equal powers with the one protosed in the much talked of election bill deleated at the last legislative seasion.

Section 6 provides that there shall be elected, by a point vote of the Senate and House, a State board of supervisors of said election, to consist of men of known intelligence and uprightness, who shall take an oath to faithfully and impartially discharge their office, a minerity of whom shall constitute a quorum, and who shall perform the duties acrein assigned them.

Section 7 provides that the above board shall appoint a board of county election supervisors for each county, consisting of the same number as the State Board and be regulated by the same number as the State Board and suppoint three judges of election that the sound of each election precinct, and these fudges shall appoint three election clerks for each provides that the Board of the county shall appoint three judges of election to a regards character and onth.

Bection 7 could be the state Board shall prescribe and onth.

Section 8 provides that the elected shall prescribe and onth.

Bection 6 county election as previous to destribution to voting of electors, that county judges shall pass upon their qualifications, the number of each elector to be marked. Belief by see of the judges when demarked. This last seems to be an excellent provision. Section 12 provides for the manner of counting the votes and transmitting the returns to the State Board. Section 13 provides that each county board shall return to the State Board the names of all candidates and the number of votes received by each.

Section 14 provides for the filling of vacancies, and ordering of elections in the counties in case an election is not held at the time first specified.

Section 15 provides that if a majority of delegates are not present on the day the assembling is ordered they may adjourn from day to day until a majority be present, and then proceed to organize.

Section 16 provides that if a until s majority be present, and then proceed to organize.

Section 16 provides that if a tild elegates and officers shall take oath to support the constitution of the United States.

task oath to support the constitution of the United Shection 17 provides that any election officer who shall be guilty of fraut or corruption in connection with election shall be deemed guilty of featon, and on conviction shall be imprisoned for not less than dive or more than ten years. Bribery and repeating and intimidating will be punished as nelony by imprisonment on conviction for not less than one or more than dive years. Section 18 provides that the Convention shall have power to determine the election qualifications and returns of its members.

Section 19 appropriates a sufficient amount of money out of the State Treasury to pay the necessary expenses of the Convention, should one be held.

Section 29 provides that the clory shall have written or printed on their ballots, in addition to the name or names of delegates, the words, "For Convention" and "Arainst Convention," and votes for and saginst convention shall be certified to by the returning officers in the same manner as the vote for delegate is certified. If the majority vote for a convention it shall be held at the time specified, delegates to receive the same mileage and per discuss is now received by members of the General Convention of the conventio and per density.

Section II provides that the Governor shall immediately issue his proclamation for an election under the provisions of the act.

Section II repeals all acts and parts of acts in conflict with the foregoing, and that the act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

BALTIMORE, May 20, 1874. A letter was received here to-day from the private secretary of the President expressostition to invite the friends of the Confederate dead to unite with those of the Union dead in the ceremonies of Decoration Day. The President is quoted as asying that the time has come when every evidence of such a feeling of fraternal interest ahould be encouraged and advantage taken of every opportunity to bury deeper any animosity born of the late war that may yet be lingering.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Yesterday morning, about eleven o'clock, as the Hamilton avenue terry boat Columbia was entering the slip on the New York side, she ran over a ing the slip on the New York side, she ran over a small boat containing two men, named Oscar Lowenstein and Joseph Meloling, smashing it to pieces and throwing the occupants into the river. Lowenstein was pieked up by officers Morris and O'Connor and taken to the First precinct station house, but Meloling was drowned. No blame was attacked to the ierry boat, as it was an unavoidable accident, Meloling was twenty-three years' of age and belonged in New Jersey, and was employed in the United States Hotel as night clerk, where he was highly esteemed. The body was not found.
